FAIRVIEW CEMETERY

This is a listing of the burials at the Fairview Cemetery, in Lake Winola, PA. This listing is only those who have markers, or markers that could be read. The older section on this cemetery is in real bad shape. There are a lot of broken stones, and weather worn stones. These are either half buried or can not be read. If anyone has relatives buried here and can't find their names, then it could be a case of either broken or unreadable stones. It could also be a case of no markers at all. In these cases, if you will email me with the info, I will be very glad to add any info that is sent to me. Thank you, THSTiger

The Robert's Cemetery with the Fitch part at the left of the main part of the cemetery. This cemetery may have been actually on the property of the Morehouse family to begin with. However we know that the Gravel Pit Company took over the Fitch farm and moved the Fitch tombstones to the Robert's Cemetery about 1975. Vera said that she signed that it was OK to move the stones. So they are safely away from the pit, but it makes it very hard to envision just how the Fitch farm lay. And how it may have looked. I would assume that the first home was quite near the Susquehanna River since that was their mode of transportation for a long time.

This is where the Fitch farm used to be. It is now a sand and gravel pit. You can see some of the equipment. The cemetery is to the right side of the picture. The actual Fitch Cemetery was moved to the Robert's Cemetery with all the stones when the Gravel Company took over that land. John Fitch had 241 acres along the Susquehanna River in 1788. Though there was a John Fitch home there somewhere, we did not visit that and now I do not know just where it was. Of course, it was not the original John Fitch home as he died in 1815, but perhaps another house was built there to replace it by one of the sons.

The smaller bridge and creek in this photo is Buttermilk Creek and the Buttermilk Bridge. From here we finally found our way to the Davis home. Of course, we had no idea who we might be looking for. Del Durland showed us the way to Vera's home. And after our visit there we went to the Robert's Cemetery where we found the Fitch tombstones.

This is an view of the bridge that we crosses the Susquehanna. Not knowing which direction to go, we went south on the other side of the river. Finally finding nothing, we turned back to the north. There we found Buttermilk Falls. This would have been the area in which Vera Davis said that they swam as youth, and no doubt Nathaniel may have also used this creek as a place to swim.

This is the public square in downtown Wilkes-barre. We spent some time walking around the square. I was looking for places to buy post cards. We finally found a few.

Dear Betty —

Here is a copy of the burial plot of Sarah. I wish it were clearer, but the print I have is not too clear. The inscription says:-

"Sarah, wife of Nathaniel Fitch.
Died Feb. 1856 aged 70 years 7 mos & 9 ds
Friend after friend departs
Who hath not lost a friend
There is no ... here
That . . . . . "

I would love to see if I could find it. Sorry I couldn't get a negative.

We are about to leave for Mass. for our son's wedding. I'll try to get prints of the portraits when I return. I was sorry the portraits were not displayed at the reunion. Please ask Carolyn Davis or Ivan Fitch where they are and if they are well protected. My mother gave them to the "Fitch Reunion".

It was surely great to see you again.

Love Lucille

FITCH CEMETERY, FALLS TOWNSHIP, WYOMING COUNTY, PA

From report of "unknown" researcher .....

Referring to the one acre reserved for the use of a burying ground in the deed given by Nathaniel Fitch to his son, Spencer Fitch, December 15, 1837, the Wyoming Historical Society has a copy of the gravestone inscriptions in that burial ground as well as other cemeteries in Falls and Northmoreland townships. The following Fitch burials are noted therein and a note regarding the condition of the grounds.

"Fitch Cemetery, (private), Falls, Wyoming County, PA. Located on top of the hill about one mile west of Falls, Wyoming County, PA. In very bad condition, almost impossible to get around in it."

Alfred B. Fitch, born March 17, 1839, died April 24, 1891 (son of Spencer)

Allen Fitch, born February 28, 1826, died September 28, 1855 (son of Nath'l. I)

Lydia, daughter of Spencer and Elizabeth Fitch, died March 20, 1864, age 23 years, 11 months, 13 days (unmarried, had Joseph H. Fitch by Jos. Roberts)

Lydia Beemer, wife of Allen Fitch, born Oct. 2, 1826, died January 17, 1919. (Allen was the 12th son of Nathaniel I)

Ophelia Fitch, 1855-1928 (wife of Frank A. Fitch)

Sarah, wife of Nathaniel Fitch, died February 6, 1856, age 70 years, 7 months, 9 day days (Sarah Keeler)

Seymour Fitch, died July 19, 1855, age 52 years, 10 months, 16 days. (Son of Nath'l. I)

Spencer Fitch, born July 21, 1811, died October 4, 1895 (Son of Nath'l. I)

(Nathaniel Fitch I is also buried there with a tombstone, but it was not recorded on this listing, at least not in the report by "unknown" researcher)

David Morehouse and wife Thankful, are buried in this Robert's Cemetery. The Cemetery is in Northmoreland township across the river from Falls Township. This seems to be in error as we found it actually in Falls Township, nears the present Falls and on the East side of the Susquehanna River. It is in a dip of the river and the river could actually be said to be somewhat on both sides.

A note about this cemetery in the report of the "unknown" researcher says it is on the high road between Northmoreland and Falls. The old part of the cemetery is on the top of the hill, the new part in front by the side of the road. It is surrounded by a good fence and is in good condition.

Tuesday, September 17, 1996 .. This is Lois's birthday. What a day!! We had either rain or light mist all day long and spent a good part of it on the road. We left Youngstown, Ohio, about 7:30 am, Indiana time, and got to Wilkes-Barre about 1:30 their time. It did not take us nearly as long as I thought it would even with the rain. I must have estimated too many miles.

We took Highway 80 in Northern Pennsylvania and the scenery was great. We thought we were having a little trouble with the car when I was driving, but I guess in looking back, it just had to do with slowing down when we were going down the long hills, etc. I first noticed when I was driving. Maybe it just didn't like me!! I am sure that the trees and mountains would have been much better if it had not been raining so much. Sometimes the mountains were drenched in fog but found none on the roads where we were driving until we got about 10 miles from Wilkes-Barre. Looking off to the side I could see the city below and it looked like all of the houses were white. It was neat looking but could not stop to take any pictures. Finally when we thought we were where we should be the exit signs changed and we got confused so got off the wrong place and it took us forever to find the motel. We were lost more times than we could count. I guess we drove for more than an hour looking for the motel and we always ended up the same place, at the Hampton Inn!! Not where we had planned to go. Nothing seemed to line up with the map I had and Warren has no sense of direction and once we goofed a couple of times, I was as lost as he was. So our navigation system broke down!! Finally about 7 miles too far north we got gas and I asked the girl there and she gave us good directions and we found the Day's Inn and so that was where we stopped. We just stayed off the big highways. They have some of the worse interchanges out there I have ever seen!!

After a little rest (we were on Road 309) we decided to try to find the library. What a mistake!! But we certainly saw downtown Wilkes-Barre and the girl at the desk even gave us a map and told us how to get there. The town is all old buildings and churches and odd streets and one-way streets. After about another hour we asked several people and finally found the library, but where to park??? We saw a parking garage about a block away and parked there. It was raining pretty hard by that time so we got wet walking. The Wilkes- Barre Library is an old church that they made into a library. It still has its high arches and looks very much like a church on the inside. It is a fabulous library, but the genealogy department is very poor compared to what we are used to. I copied a couple maps of Luzerne County, but should have done Wyoming and Falls Townships as that is where the Fitches lived. But it was hard. The copy machine would not do big pages and the books are so big and so old that they are hard to manage to make any copies at all. So after all that, we accomplished little except we know how to get there (I think) and the Historical Society is open tomorrow afternoon so will see if they can help me.

The weather is so miserable and right now it doesn't look like it will improve much, but hopefully if we can wait until Thursday to go on it will improve some. Today it is windy with heavy rains in all of New England and to continue the same on Wednesday, moving out slightly.

With all of the difficulties (minor, of course) we are having, it makes me wonder if it was all a mistake to even come!!

We even got lost trying to get back from the library. Thought we might try the mall, which is just across the road (but probably with our record we would get lost just doing that!), but we were too tired f rom all the stress and decided we would do that in the morning. McDonald's is right beside us so at least we can eat. And not get lost .... we can even walk there! Made the decision to stay here yet tomorrow night before we go on. The agenda for tomorrow goes something like this:

Wyoming Mall, Historical Society, Falls and cemeteries, maps and post cards

Tried to call the kids, but got nothing but the answering machine so left a message finally where we are at.

Wednesday, September 18, 1996 .. A good day weatherwise. Guess the Lord felt sorry for us and he gave us a good day without rain. The rain had stopped and it was clearing nicely in the morning and turned into a sunny/cloudy day, but no rain on the windshields and we could see! But, of course, that didn't keep us from getting lost a time or two. I think their roads must still be the original Indian trails!

We had breakfast at McDonalds. Then went across the road to the Wyoming Mall. It was a later start as the mall didn't open until 10 am. It is a nice mall, but didn't have much for us. The bookstore had no post cards at all. Nice books on Pennsylvania, but not history books, just modern ones about now. Finally, just before we left the Mall I found a little store with a few post cards so bought what they had. Then we crossed the Susquehanna River and headed North. The Historical Society wouldn't be open until noon. We were looking for Falls. Falls was not found to be obvious and so we took the back roads to nowhere. Lost again. At least we saw some of the back country. Finally we knew we were in the right area (some workmen had said that Falls was just up the road). OK, where was it?? So we decided to ask again. No one home. We decided to ask at the church and thinking that the place behind it was the parsonage we tried there. Wrong, but met a fellow working on his big truck. He is a truck driver and this was no little one either. New and huge! He said he drives all over and was in Indiana just last week. He told us how to get to the cemetary that we were looking for (Fitch and Roberts, that is), but finally referred us to Del Durland who lives down the road a piece. He said he knows everything about everyone in the area and that sounded good to me.

So we found him. At the corner Warren stopped so I could take some pictures of the Falls that we found. Yes, he said this was really Falls. They call it Falls on both sides of the River. The map shows it on the other side but he said that is just for Post Office purposes and this is the side that the cemeteries etc., are on. The map shows it on the other side and that is why we really got lost. So Falls is really on the West side of the River.

I went upstairs to talk with Del Durland and his wife. They live in a really old building that used to be a store in the downstairs and they live upstairs. They have a lift on the stairs and she has to use that to go up or down. He is very mobile.

1864 Yes, they knew the Fitch place well. He said that his grandfather was killed clearing land on the John Fitch place when he was only 36 years old. I would guess that there was a later John Fitch if they still called it by that name. However he knew about the history of the place and probably knows a great deal more than he told me. I didn't really know what questions to ask him. They were very nice.

They said that the John Fitch farm is now a sand and gravel pit. Sounds like a repeat of our "Nathaniel" story. Anyway the Roberts graveyard is still there but they have moved the Fitch stones to just outside the fence of the Roberts one because they have dug up where the old cemetery was.

So the Sand and Gravel Company moved the stones to their new location. He tried to show me where it was, but decided he would turn us over to a neighbor.

This was Vera Fitch Davis, who was a member of the family of the Fitches.

So Mr. Durland actually drove us to her house so we would not get lost. They had called her ahead of time so she was expecting us. She and her husband, Harold, live on their 2 acres out of a 260 acre farm that had been theirs. They sold off the rest of it and several new houses have been built besides theirs. They have a nephew, James Fitch, who lives not too far away. I had seen his name in the phone book.

It seems that she has these copies of Fitch Family records that a man from Florida sent to her. He is a part of the same family and has done extensive research and gave her all of his work. I was amazed and he has them coming down from Thomas 1 too. Anyway, we had decided to try to copy them on her nephew's copy machine, and she drove us to their house. However, the copies are large and the machine he owns only does 8X11 size and so it would not work. I needed 11X17 size. So Finally I persuaded her to let me bring them home with me and copy them at home and then mail them back to her. Office Depot will do it nicely and not take too long. So she was very nice to say that I could do that. I will guard them with my life if that is necessary I guess. After talking to her though I do not think she knows what are in the papers as she doesn't really even know back past her grandfather and she has either not been able to interpret those papers or he hasn't run down the rest of her family. But she has to belong to one of Nathaniel's boys, or at least one of John's. She lives almost right on the Fitch property. She showed me how to get to the cemetery. (She comes from Spencer)

So after we left there, we found the cemeteries. While Vera and I went to try to make copies, Warren and Harold visited. (Milan)

This history was written by a William Fitch and there is much stuff to go through and there is much about the Thomas line. He brought it down to our Nathaniel from Thomas #1 but I will try to do more checking while in Connecticut.

Back to the cemeteries. I took a lot of pictures. Both Nathaniel and Sarah's stones were there plus some others. And then went to the Roberts (right inside the fence) and took more. Some interesting ones like Taylor, Sherwood, MOrehouse, etc., all old neighbors of John Fitch.

We looked out over the sand pits and tried to imagine what the farm may have looked like. Took some pictures of the piles of sand too. I just took pictures not worrying about dates or anything because there was not enough time. Just hoped I had everything I needed.

By this time it was too late to go to the Historical Society in Wilkes-Barre and they would not even be open tomorrow so I was satisfied. We had run into a gold mine quite by "accident". No accidents with the Lord!

We started back for Wilkes-Barre. We stopped and had Chicken McNuggets along the way. Decided we might as well go back to the Library to see if I could get the right map. So off to Public Square. We parked in a parking garage again. I tried to get a map of Falls, but the copy machine was no longer working at all. So we went and took a walk around the square and I bought some post cards from one of the stores there.

We headed back to the motel. It had been a long day. We only got lost a little compared to yesterday. Their highways are like corkscrews and are very poorly marked according to our standards. Finally got back to the motel and were very glad we had decided not to go on tonight. Seems we were all tuckered out and about 6 pm or so are ready to quit for the day and just watch TV. The Family Channel has had the Waltons on and they are old ones and most of them are the ones I have not seen at all.

~ Vol. 1 - 16 (1842 - 1932) ~

These are estate records from the courthouse now on microfilm. The name is followed by the year of the estate settlement and the microfilm file number. Use these to view the film at the society.
[NOTE: Not all wills were filmed, as some were judged too fragile for the process. You can still view some originals at the courthouse.]
